

I am against the use of Broadband over Power Line technology in the United States. I have heard no conclusive evidence or professional opinion (other than from the commercial interests proposing this idea) that this technology will not cause harmful interference to HF Amateur Radio Communications.

I think this proposal is a very bad idea and will cause interference to Amateur Radio operations in the United States.